

Tax Preparation

While efficient tax planning is critical to keep more of your hard-earned money, proper tax preparation is the key to achieving those goals. Decosimo works with you to answer questions, provide innovative solutions and to prepare your taxes in a timely manner

With today's compressed personal and business filing requirements (All returns or estimates of liability are due by April 15 for personal and pass-through business entities, and a month before that for corporations), you can depend on Decosimo to provide the solutions to help you keep more of what you earn.

When it comes to the efficient preparation of federal, state, and local tax returns, Decosimo excels due to its knowledgeable and experienced professionals, system of quality control that is second to none, and a process that has evolved over 30 years. Part of that process is a computerized return preparation system that, coupled with our review procedures, ensures accurate, complete and timely preparation.

Decosimo serves its clients in various tax return preparation and compliance areas:

Income tax and information returns—We prepare returns for individuals, corporations, not for profit organizations, partnerships, and trusts and estates.

IRS and other agency rulings—We prepare requests for formal and informal rulings and technical advice.

Gift and estate tax returns—The proper planning and preparation of gift and estate returns can make a difference of thousands of dollars.

IRS and state and local audit representation—We have tax professionals who spend the majority of their careers working with the IRS in client examinations. As soon as the notice arrives, our professionals work to minimize anxiety and to move audits efficiently toward the best result for the client.
